

Leo Braun <braunandcompany@gmail.com>

Protecting the data in your Google Account

1 message

Google Apps Developers <noreply-apps-developer@google.com>
Reply-To: Google Apps Developers <noreply-apps-developer@google.com>
To: braunandcompany@gmail.com

Tue, Feb 11, 2020 at 2:19 PM

Hello,

Beginning February 18, 2020, the following app will no longer have access to your Gmail data:

Swiftpage ACT!

Google has always worked to design our tools and services with security at their core. Last year, we proactively updated the Google User Data Policy to better protect Gmail users.

As part of this policy, apps you granted access to your Google account that have not passed a required security assessment will no longer be able to access your Gmail data starting February 18, 2020.

Without access to your Gmail data, this app may not work as intended. If you have any questions, please contact the developer of the app.

You can also use the Security Checkup tool to view, manage, and remove any apps that you have given access to your Google Account.

Thanks,
The Google Accounts team

© 2020 Google LLC. 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043

You are receiving this mandatory service email to alert you to important changes to your Google Account.